Experiments in Ethics Kwame Anthony Appiah.2010-03-30 In the past few decades, scientists of human nature—including experimental and cognitive psychologists, neuroscientists, evolutionary theorists, and behavioral economists—have explored the way we arrive at moral judgments. They have called into question commonplaces about character and offered troubling explanations for various moral intuitions. Research like this may help explain what, in fact, we do and feel. But can it tell us what we ought to do or feel? In Experiments in Ethics, the philosopher Kwame Anthony Appiah explores how the new empirical moral psychology relates to the age-old project of philosophical ethics. Some moral theorists hold that the realm of morality must be autonomous of the sciences; others maintain that science undermines the authority of moral reasons. Appiah elaborates a vision of naturalism that resists both temptations. He traces an intellectual genealogy of the burgeoning discipline of experimental philosophy, provides a balanced, lucid account of the work being done in this controversial and increasingly influential field, and offers a fresh way of thinking about ethics in the classical tradition. Appiah urges that the relation between empirical research and morality, now so often antagonistic, should be seen in terms of dialogue, not contest. And he shows how experimental philosophy, far from being something new, is actually as old as philosophy itself. Beyond illuminating debates about the connection between psychology and ethics, intuition and theory, his book helps us to rethink the very nature of the philosophical enterprise.

The Principle of Contradiction Edward Conze.2016-09-30 Conze's monograph The Principle of Contradiction: On the Theory of Dialectical Materialism is his most important philosophical work and the foundation for his later publications as a Buddhist scholar and translator. The openly Marxist work was published under considerable risk to both printer and author alike in December 1932 in Hamburg, Germany. Only months later, in May 1933, almost all of the five hundred copies of the first edition were destroyed during the Nazi book burning campaign. It is only now, more than eighty years later, that Conze's key philosophical work is made available to a broad audience in this English translation. In the work, Conze sets out to develop a detailed account of the historical and material conditions that support the emergence, production, and transmission of theoretical knowledge—as exemplified by the principle of contradiction—and, furthermore, to show that under different social and historical conditions the allegedly necessary truth and indubitable content of the principle would dissolve and be replaced by a radically different understanding of the principle of contradiction—a dialectic understanding of the principle that would compel a rejection of the Aristotelian dogma. From a Marxist perspective, the analysis and critique of the principle of contradiction is a crucial and necessary step towards a dialectical understanding of philosophical (and political) theory and practice. Conze's monograph, which attempts to clear the ground for a deeper understanding of the very foundation of classical Marxist thought, may very well be the most comprehensive Marxist critique of the Aristotelian principle of contradiction available to this day. However, Conze's pioneering 1932 monograph goes well beyond the constraints of an orthodox Marxist analysis. His erudite and scholarly account of the history and evolution of the principle of contradiction illuminates the thought of Aristotle, Marx, and Buddha, and provides the groundwork for a new cross-cultural and interdisciplinary approach to philosophical theory and practice.

Seraphin's Spirituality School Rosie Jackson.2019-09-23 An angel speaks SERAPHIN'S SPIRITUALITY SCHOOL Your divine role: creating an era of peace By Rosie Jackson When faced with a world characterised by corruption, conflict and discord, many people feel distressed and helpless. How can we create an era of peace? The answers can be found in the remarkable telepathic messages of the angel named Seraphin. Seraphin is an angel, who identifies himself as being a member of the Legion of Light for the manifestation of spiritual truth, through the arts. Rosie Jackson has been receiving telepathic messages from Seraphin since 2010. The material in this book, a selection of 111 Seraphin Messages, has five distinct purposes. Firstly, the chapter Messages from the other side, intends to encourage readers to start a writing journey which is similar to that of Rosie Jackson. You too can contact your guides and talk to your Father fragment. In this way, you can download information and guidance relevant to your particular task on earth. As your spiritual abilities progress, you will gain ever increasing confidence, and you will become a source of inspiration for others. Secondly, the chapters entitled Your Divine Purpose, Transcending Your Past, Creating Your Future, and Your Relationships, intend to further the reader`s own spiritual path, assisting him or her to develop potential fully, achieve excellency, and to use these skills and knowledge for the benefit of all. Thirdly, the chapter Preparing for Transition aims to provide advice on how to deal with the intense times of transformation ahead. Due to our present position in the photon belt (as well as other situations which require closure), our planet is showered with highly powered cosmic energies. These create enormous change, supporting everything of divine nature. They simultaneously expose and destroy everything which is not aligned with divine intention. Fourthly, the chapters on rebuilding our world offer instructions on how to address practical problems. They also highlight which qualities we should manifest in order to maintain peace, beauty and abundance on our world. Fifthly, the goal of the last chapter, entitled Reconnecting to the Universe, aims to increase our awareness of our galactic neighbours who continually and lovingly observe us. After thousands of years of disconnection, we will finally resume our membership of the cosmic family.

The Realm of Facts Nicholas Rescher. 2020-01-20 Knowledge of facts is essential for the management of life. Most studies of the subject examine how we go about trying to obtain it; they describe the processes and proceedings of rational inquiry. The present work steps back from this to inquire into the limits and limitations of such processes and to identify the assets and the limitabilities of what they are able to supply for us. It examines how knowledge of facts is secured and consolidated as such, and what the resulting information can and cannot provide. It argues that the unavoidable incompleteness of our factual information also endows it with an element of incorrectness. By looking also at the negative side of human inquiry the book's perspective clarifies the nature of our grip on the facts that constitute our view of the reality of things.

Introspection in Second Language Research Claus Færch, Gabriele Kasper. 1987 This book presents a new solution to one of the major methodological problems of second language research, the reconstruction of learners' processes of language learning and language use. Based on recent developments in cognitive psychology, the contributors to the volume demonstrate how introspective methods - verbal reports by learners about their thought processes - provide valuable information about central areas in second language research: cognitive comprehension, translation and test-taking.
